[Message]

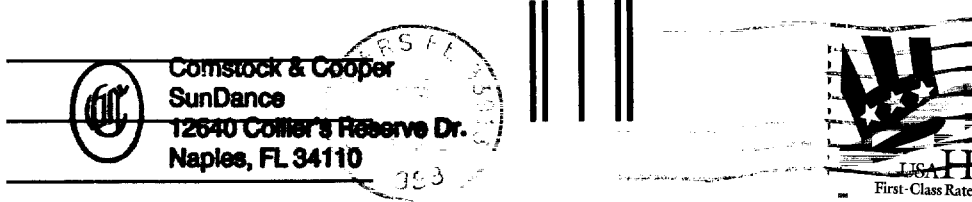

Mr. President,

Apparently the FDA is considering a regulation that would allow irradiated food to be sold without being labeled. I am not necessarily opposed to food irradiation, but I AM opposed to having such food literally forced down our throats without allowing us to make an informed choice. It seems that it would be in line with your stance in favor of everyday citizens to order the FDA to reject this regulation. I hope you will do so.

Sincerely,
Richard A. Stansberger
